

Hey, Little Ant Writing Craftivity

Materials needed:

Construction paper {brown, white, & black}

White hole reinforcements {stickers}

Black marker

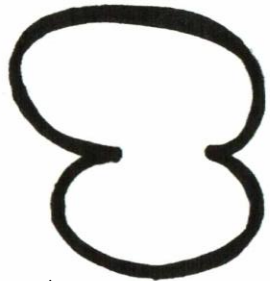

Crayons

To start, have the kids draw a background. You can choose anything, but I went with SIMPLE! Just the grass and the sky. Have the kids construct their ant on the background and then draw the tiny pupils in the eyes, a mouth, legs, antennas, and stitching {if you're really feelin' crazy ;;)} Have the kids glue down the WHITE sock/shoe and then add then glue the black shoe on top. They can use markers to draw the lines on the sock, a white crayon/crayon pencil to draw the laces, and then add the reinforcements 😊

Hey, Little Ant

What do you think the little boy should do? How would you end the story?
